

— Advanced Presentation Skills

You want to be able to give a powerful and clear presentation that has impact and engages your audience. This may be to sharpen your platform skills, manage your stress, handle difficult situations, handle difficult questions or increase your professional image from leading a meeting to getting credit for your ideas in a meeting, Sales presentations (including presentations that require audiences to make a decision), motivating others, training or just an informal briefing. We help you design and deliver a presentation that will help you attain your goals and take your presentation skills to a new level.

Learn how to prepare high-energy presentations, handle yourself at meetings, project your credibility, and answer difficult questions from any audience of any size. If you are open to change, we provide practical and concentrated coaching to address your specific needs and improve your professional skills. Communication skills are paramount to a person's success in all companies at all levels. To be able to communicate to your boss what you and/or your department has accomplished. Or to get the credit and attention you deserve in a meeting. We can help you turn a difficult situation into an interaction that communicates your ideas and the image you want portrayed. This is your chance to take control of your professional image and attain the control and respect you deserve.

We work with you and coach you to help you improve your presentations and presentation delivery in this one and a half day program. You will receive business tools and templates and learn how to effectively use them. Each participant will need to come with a 15-minute business related presentation, which will be used as part of the training seminar.

You will learn how to:

- Create a successful presentation, making your content clearer and more memorable
- Structure a presentations for different audiences and for different presentation goals
- Capture the attention of an audience
- Use body language to impact your presentation
- Communicate with clarity and conviction
- Use voice inflection, pauses and tone to impact your message
- Build your confidence and charisma
- Build audience interaction
- Expertly handle tough questions
- Deal with presentation anxiety and stress
- Use of visuals and speaker aids
- Create and deliver effective presentations

As companies continue to face challenges in this globally integrated world, they look to the workforce to help differentiate them from the competition. We as employees need to continually increase our skill sets and knowledge to help our companies attain results and show our individual value.

Your presentations will be recorded to allow you to see the image you portray to an audience and to track your presentation skill development attained in the Advanced Presentation Skill seminar.
